Join the Excitement of Intercollegiate Athletics
BILL JURGENS, DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

This is truly an exciting time for Florida Tech athletics. Dr. Anthony Catanese’s recent decision to expand our presence in the Sunshine State Conference is of monumental significance for the varsity sports program. Increasing the number of sports for the existing program by 50 percent is unheard of in the conference. Five new sports, along with the increase in athletic scholarships, are the most important advances for the varsity athletics program in its 39-year history.

The mission of the Florida Tech Athletic Department is to:
1. Foster a good quality of student life at Florida Tech by providing intercollegiate athletics, intramurals and recreational opportunities for all students, both as participants and spectators.
2. Provide students with the opportunity to achieve physical and mental health and personal enjoyment that result from recreational and athletic participation.
3. Promote identification with and good will for Florida Tech among students, alumni and the community, which are a result of the accomplishments of successful intercollegiate athletic teams.
4. Market Florida Tech among prospective students and garner support through publicity generated by athletic achievements.
Florida Tech has been nurturing great minds for more than a generation. Now, with the Charles and Ruth Clemente Center for Sports and Recreation, Florida Tech is providing its students, faculty and staff an opportunity for physical training. The Clemente Center fitness area features many options for strength training and cardiovascular conditioning, as well as a variety of group fitness classes.

Intramural Sports Program
Extracurricular activities are a very important part of the college experience. At Florida Tech, the student body is continuously active in intramural competition. This participation provides the physical benefits of exercise and develops the social values of companionship and sportsmanship. Team and individual activities enrich the lives of all participants throughout their college days and for years to come. Intramurals are conducted on the Florida Tech campus, with the exception of softball, which utilizes an off-campus site. The campus facilities for intramurals include indoor and outdoor volleyball courts, tennis courts, basketball arena, fitness room, aerobic room, racquetball court, and two large open fields. Activities include: badminton, basketball, co-ed volleyball, cricket, flag football, frisbee golf, inner tube water polo, racquetball, soccer, softball, tennis, volleyball, weight lifting and whiffle ball.

Proud Sunshine State Conference Members
Founded in 1975, the Sunshine State Conference has risen from a single sport organization to the Division II “Conference of Champions.” Since its inception, the conference has grown steadily in number of sports played, membership and national prominence. SSC member schools have won 55 NCAA championships in: baseball; cross country; men’s basketball; golf; soccer and tennis; women’s golf; soccer; softball; tennis and volleyball; and are nationally recognized in women’s basketball and crew. The Sunshine State Conference sponsors championships in: baseball; softball; men’s and women’s basketball, cross country, golf, soccer and tennis; and women’s crew and volleyball.

The Charles and Ruth Clemente Center for Sports and Recreation
The Charles and Ruth Clemente Center for Sports and Recreation opened in September 2001, favorably impacting the university and its athletics program by accomplishing each of the previously stated four goals. Since its inception in 1986, the former Panther Athletic Association and its governing board have provided valuable assistance to the university. Locally, some of the best student-athletes from Brevard County schools attend Florida Tech. This is made possible, in part, from more than $140,000 awarded annually in athletic scholarships to our student-athletes.

A sports journalist once wrote that Florida Tech athletics offers all the excitement and competitive spirit seen at larger NCAA Division I programs. Florida Tech athletic events also provide a wholesome environment for the entire family to experience the excitement of intercollegiate athletics.
